Southshore was founded in 2004 as a joint venture between three leading educational institutions: Bay View Academy, Froebel Education Center and The C.A.S. School. Each of these schools has contributed its own distinctive element to create an institution with a unique character and mission.

Southshore recognizes that students today face a number of serious challenges including environmental degradation, economic uncertainty and a social crisis emerging from the expanding gulf between the rich and the poor.

The school believes that academic excellence alone will not prepare them for the world they will inherit. Therefore, Southshore’s goal is to provide its students with a rigorous academic curriculum supported by a variety of structured learning experiences.

The Southshore programme is designed to prepare its students for success in institutions of higher learning and to give them the drive and ability to make a contribution to the society they live in.

Southshore achieves these goals by offering a wide range of University of Cambridge A Level courses in the physical sciences, social sciences, humanities and in the field of commerce. It also offers seminars, learning modules, foreign languages and internship programmes to extend students’ thinking and confront issues in community and social development. Southshore’s learning modules require students to explore the world around them while expanding the range of their own interests.

LEARNING MODULES

The Learning Modules allow Southshore students to explore areas of personal interest under the instruction of successful professionals in the particular field. Students are able to gain insight for future educational and career options, interact with the wider community and have the opportunity to publish their work such as photographs, poetry, short stories, essays, research papers and more.

At Southshore, the Learning Modules provide a challenging environment for personal growth, learning and enjoyment. Given our emphasis on a well-rounded education, a student’s achievements through the Learning Modules are recognized and rewarded through preferential consideration for leadership opportunities, external events, internships and Southshore graduation awards.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council provides an opportunity for students to build and utilize their leadership skills and acts as a liaison between students and the school administration.

The process of electing the Student Council begins in March when students from the A1 class are nominated by votes from students, staff and faculty members. The Student Council is finalized in August after discussions with members of the outgoing Council, a review of AS Level grades, votes from the Southshore community, and examination of students’ disciplinary record, involvement in extracurricular activities and performance in all components of the Programme of Studies (A Level subjects, seminars, learning modules, internships).

The Council consists of a President, Vice President, General Secretary and Treasurer as well as 8–10 council members. All members of the Student Council are expected to uphold school rules in letter and in spirit while serving as positive examples to the rest of the school community.

APPRENTICES & WORDSMITHS

Poems written by students who take the Poetry Learning Module are reviewed by a panel of judges, and selected poems are published in Apprentices & Wordsmiths.

BELLPEPPER

Bellpepper is a newsletter published four times a year by an editorial board consisting of students and two faculty members. It reports on events taking place in the school, student comments, interviews, and feature articles written by students.

URDU BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

Students who take the Seminar on Children’s Urdu Literature write books for children. The books are then published by Bookgroup, a non-profit, educational research institution. Cheenoo aur Daanika is an example of such an effort.

FIRELY

Photographs taken by students of the photography module are reviewed by a panel of judges, and selected photographs are printed in Firely.

RE WIND

Southshore publishes Rewind, the school yearbook, documenting the events of the school throughout the year, including a closer focus on the graduating class. It is meant to be a memento for the students, both the A1s and the A2s.
